BRIEF MENTION

Nineteen people were killed and several injured in a head on collision between a fast passenger and a freight train in Ohio Monday.

The toy aero planes sent up by Hagets sons July 4th were interesting evidences of their skill and gave people here a good idea of how flying machines look.

Milford Streets never were in a better or more satisfactory condition. They were prepared before the day was applied, it was judiciously spread and the result is so dust and a hard smooth roadway. The Council merits the thanks of the public, and the V. I. A. is also included for its generous outlay for this excellent condition. The sidewalks also will be treated and practically the whole town will be dustless.

FOR HENT—To summer guests, furnished house foot of Broad St. F. P. SAWYER.

The Misses Gertrude Gumble and Jennie Strubers of Philadelphia are guests with friends in town.

One result of this weather is the premature arrival of the silly season; it is manifested in the announcement of a British naval officer that war between Japan and America is inevitable.

While California has prize fights, Havana discusses inaugurating billiards to amuse American witnesses. Evidently there is an impression that Americans are less respectable than their laws.

According to the plans the work will secure the road, and with an additional appropriation which Mr. Marvin will obtain if he is returned to the Legislature next winter that had and expensive place will be made safe for all time. It is far easier for taxpayers to have the state pay for the job than to go down to their own pockets. If you realize this cost vote for Marvin and get something in return.

Census Rumors

Probably the census of 1910 will show that Southern States, including Oklahoma and Missouri have made a 21 per cent gain in population since 1900 and that they will show about 32 and a half million. The gain to other states is estimated at 18 1/2 per cent. Five states made the greatest gain; Alabama, Georgia, Missouri, Texas and Oklahoma, the latter likely made the greatest gain of one and a quarter million.

Washington Deserted

Since last week the national capital has become a deserted village. Congress, the President, the diplomatic corps and society have all scattered. Simultaneously with the departure of the President and Congress, the point of national interest was shifted to New York when the ex-President returned, and it now appears that wherever he is there the middle men of the press are gathered together and from that point political news is dispersed. Business will still go on at the national capitol, but in an inspired, humdrum, mechanical way through the 1800 clerks who will know the routine better than Presidents and cabinets and chief of bureaus. But until the first or middle of October there will be but little to attract the attention of the public to Washington.

Since the adjournment of Congress, two Senators, Daniels of Virginia, and McHenry of Louisiana, have died; one, McCumber of North Dakota, has been re-elected and Representative George Grooms of that state has also been elected to the Senate to fill an unexpected term of Johnson of North Dakota, who died shortly after he was elected.

To all appearances there is a slight slump in the insurgency movement. It is announced that Senators Cummins and Daltver have cancelled lecturing engagements, and the Damon and Pythias relation renewed between the President and the ex-President at Beverly is a straw indicating political accord and peace. Col. Roosevelt's determination to keep his hands off politics has yielded to Gov. Hughes' solicitation and he is mixed in the New York legislative fight with a result that appears to be temporary defeat. It need not, however be assumed that Col. Roosevelt's personal friendship for President Taft means that he approves his attitude in the Ballinger-Pinchot affair, or that he is not at heart in sympathy with the progressive element of his party.

There is no doubt that the Republican party will in the coming elections have a better standing than was expected two or three months ago. The government is winding up the fiscal year in good shape. All the figures relating to receipts and expenditures are not yet in, but such as are now in show that the Treasury will get through the year with practically no deficit. This is very much better than the financial condition one year ago. A new system has been adopted in the Treasury statement, and the ordinary receipts and disbursements are kept apart from the Panama Canal Account. If this account should be taken into consideration, there would be a deficit of about thirty-four million. At this time one year ago the fiscal year ended with a deficit of fifty-nine millions to the account of ordinary receipts and disbursements and one hundred and eighteen millions taking into consideration the account of the Panama Canal. It will be a matter of satisfaction to Americans sufficiently well informed in financial affairs to know that ordinary receipts and expenditures now nearly balance each other.

NAPOLEON'S GRIT

was of the unconquerable, never-say-die kind, the kind that you need most when you have a bad cold, cough or lung disease. Suppose trachea, cough syrups, cod liver oil or doctors have all failed, don't lose heart or hope. Take Dr. King's New Discovery. Satisfaction is guaranteed when used for any throat or lung trouble. It has saved thousands of hopeless sufferers. Trial bottle free at all druggists.

KING'S GRANTS

Charles I who was King of Great Britain from 1625 to 1649 granted a charter in 1628 to the Governor and Company of Massachusetts Bay Colony and in 1629 gave the Province of Carolina to Sir Robert Heath his attorney general. In 1632 he gave a proprietary grant of Maryland to Cecilius Calvert, second Lord Baltimore. Charles II King from 1660 to 1685 granted liberal charters to Connecticut and Rhode Island in 1662-3 and in 1681 granted Pennsylvania to William Penn, giving him a proprietary grant of 45,000 square miles in payment of a debt of 16,000 pounds due Penn's father. The State contains 44,935 square miles.

Jersey Autoists

Officer McCarty July 4th arrested a party of autoists from New Jersey because they had no Penna license and carried a New Jersey number. Before Justice Ludwig they explained that they supposed they had the legal right to run over here because of the reciprocity between states and as proof offered a chart printed in a New York publication which had after Penn the word "except" indicating that there was general reciprocity. Jersey men generally understand there is no reciprocity and some twenty thousand autoists over there now are organizing to have a law passed next winter to recognize foreign licenses. They see that the present requirement of a license for outsiders is a detriment to keeping many travelers out of the state. It was argued that good roads were being injured to a greater extent than the benefit derived from the money spent by tourists, but it is being realized that a state cannot afford to fence itself in and compel the public to go around it. If Jersey persists in being like Spain neighboring states will have to Cubanize her. Mosquitoes and all.

Killed by Hospitality

And to make her sad ending less sure as could be, They drowned her in gallons of afternoon tea.

WANTED!

NOTES FROM SANDYSTON

Mary Galmar teacher in the eastern part of this county closed her school the past week and returned home.

Our old nomenclator from Tatties Corner eastward is undergoing repair, and people passing over the road learn that there is a lot of expense and the repairs will be of little benefit. From all reports the road is in bad shape at present.

Miss Mabel Smith who has been teaching for the past two years in Newark returned home on Friday and will spend her vacation with her parents at Layton.

"Alicia Fern" over along the Delaware is filling up with boarders. The place is ideal for the city folk and under the management of Frank and Ira is made pleasant for all stopping with them.

The big barn on the Club farm at Bevans is about enclosed and the building is being pushed to completion.

The patrons of the Bevans P. O. have to depend upon the mail carrier for their mail matter.

The office was closed on Thursday last and all papers removed to the Layton P. O.

The Layton P. M. and clerk have their hands full placing patrons mail in bags for those along the route from Hainesville to the Walpack line.

It is certainly no picnic.

Work on the new road is progressing rapidly and the grading is about complete from Layton to beyond G. E. Hulse. Most of the beautiful trees along the road were removed to the regret of the people. The steam roller came on Saturday and the crusher, with a capacity of 175 tons per day, will be here in a few days. Many were worried over the Italians, but they are a gentlemanly set of men, and their foreman, Ray Thompson, is just the man to have charge of the work.

Fears were expressed that corn would not reach the knee high mark by July 4th, but there are several pieces that have done it nicely.

The marriage of Miss Grace Ayers and Grover C. Utter both of this town took place one day last week. Their many friends wish them much happiness.

Miss Sadie Harsh of Newark spent Sunday and Monday with her father at Layton, returning to Newark on Monday evening.

THOSE PIES OF BOYHOOD

How delicious were the pies of boyhood. No pie now ever taste so good. What's changed the pie? No, it's you. You've lost the strong, healthy stomach, the vigorous liver, the active kidneys, the regular bowels of boyhood. Your digestion is poor and you blame the food. What's needed? A complete toning up by Electric Bitters of all organs of digestion—Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Bowels—Try them. They'll restore your boyhood appetite and appreciation of food and fairly startle your body with new health, strength and vigor. 50c. at all druggists.

Twenty-Six Men

Up to the present time twenty-two different men have been elected to the office of President of the United States. Five of these have died in office, and have been succeeded by their respective Vice-Presidents. Only one of the latter, Theodore Roosevelt, was afterward elected to the presidency. Thus the great of life has been held by twenty-six different men. Of these twenty-six men, fourteen had a college education. Harvard claims three; John Adams, his son John Q. Adams and Theodore Roosevelt. William and Mary College in Virginia; Thomas Jefferson and John Tyler. No other college has had more than one of its alumni in the White House. Yale appears in the list now for the first time in the person of Wm. H. Taft. Bowdoin was represented by Franklin Pierce. Williams by James A. Garfield, Union by Chester A. Arthur, Princeton by James Madison, Dickinson by James Buchanan, the University of North Carolina by James K. Polk. Kenyon by R. B. Hayes, Miami by Benjamin Harrison. The Military Academy at West Point graduated Grant and Meador. W. H. Harrison and William McKinley entered college but did not graduate. It is a great honor to be President of the United States. It is a sufficient honor to be worthy of the presidency. Not many boys can hope for the former but all may confidently aim at the latter.

WORK 24 HOURS A DAY

The busiest little things ever made are Dr. King's New Life Pills. Every pill is a sugar-coated globe of health, that changes weakness into strength, languor into energy, brain-fog into mental power curing Constipation, Headache, Chills, Dyspepsia, Malaria, etc., at all druggists.

The Milford Season

Milford has again opened its doors to summer visitors, many of them coming from Brooklyn.

Among the guests at the Bluff House are: Mr. and Mrs. George McKibbin, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Haswell, Miss J. A. Spicer, Frank and G. Stafford Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Burks, Mrs. E. Lyman and Miss Kathleen Kiley, all from Brooklyn.

At the Milford Inn are: A. Brankmuller, D. B. Shea and Mr. and Mrs. A. Schoenberger, who arrived here recently in their car.

The Marguerite is fortunate in having secured the services of a Holland House (New York) chef, Louis Romaine.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvanus T. White are again occupying their cottage on Harford Street. They live in Brooklyn during the winter. Mr. White and Mr. McKibbin are enthusiastic golf players, and can be seen on the golf grounds almost daily.

The first baseball game of the season took place in the morning of July 4. The opposing team hailed from Newburg. The Milford team has a full-blooded Indian battery, who know how to play ball.

The game resulted in a score of 2-1 in favor of Milford, and while it was well contested there seemed little life in either the players or the audience, and a lack of enthusiasm seemed manifest.

Gifford Pinchot is located for the summer at his "Grey Towers" estate, and will give considerable attention to matters connected with the Yale Summer School of Forestry, which convened at its camp this week.

The Field Club held a subscription bridge whist and "500" party in the afternoon of July 3, and many handsome prizes were awarded.

Tennis, croquet, c'ock golf and quito, besides reading, writing card playing and social intercourse are the pastime afforded by the Club.

The Homestead Free Library is well stocked for summer reading.

At the various hotels there will be dances, church festivals, and amateur theatricals to attend; and now and then dancing bears and traveling gypsies may be seen.

For those who are fond of the wheel, riding and driving, there are excellent roads and beautiful scenery to pass through from Port Jervis to the Delaware Water Gap—up hill and down dale—mountains on the right of us, and the Delaware River and valley on the left of us.

A FRIGHTFUL WRECK

Milford's Base Ball Team

In these pleasant days of July, When Old Sol is hot and near,

And the brooklets in the heat do sloam;

Our thoughts fly to our base ball team:

Our team, so quick and sore with their bats,

And in fielding like nine graceful elongated cats.

Our pitcher, the Indian, Garlow, by name,

Who on this globe compares with the same?

As catcher, his brother, we all must admit,

Flourishes and fingers a most trusty mitt.

On first, Harry E. Angle of elephantine stride,

He surely doth bunnish that wretched horsehide!

On second, an expert worthy of fame,

Walter Victorious Dogman, dear lad, is his name.

At short, we find as firm as a rock, Fred Middaugh of old Dutch stock.

On third, brother Andy nimble he is,

Can sure hit the ball on its mocking phiz.

In right, Roscoe Gourlay of far-heralded speed,

Who gets a hit when there is most need.

In centre, a lad, we'll call him X for ease,

Hits, runs and slides as fast as ye please.

And in left, Emmett Steele with long, hoary, hand,

Gobbles the flies and delights the grandstand.

A team to be proud of and worthy to win,

Then go to the games and about with a win.
